The Beloit International Film Festival will unveil the program book for this year's film fest during a release party from 5-7 p.m. Monday, Jan. 26, at the Ironworks Hotel, 500 Pleasant St., Beloit.

Admission is free and open to the public. Free appetizers and a cash bar will be available. A screening area will be set up for guests to watch film previews.

The film festival is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year. It kicks off Feb. 1 and runs through March 1 at various Beloit venues.

Janesville residents will get to see some BIFF films Friday and Saturday, Jan. 30-31, during "A Taste of BIFF in Janesville" at the Ramada, 3900 Milton Ave. Besides several screenings, the Janesville "taste" features a showing of "Beach Blanket Bingo," starring Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello, at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.
